

Abstract

The present invention relates to certain biologically active peptides and polypeptides which can 5 be used as therapeutics or prophylactics against diseases or disorders linked to NGF as the causative agent. In one aspect of the present invention, pharmacologically active polypeptides comprising peptides linked to one or more Fc domains are provided.